What's New in the Product Catalog Builder?

Get your own catalog of products with a single click! It is possible to create and edit your own electronic catalog of products, and display it to your customers on the Internet. You will also be able to create a customized HTML page for your catalog, that will be loaded into any website you plan to display it to your customers. Product Catalog Builder can be fully integrated with several online shopping cart systems and websites. It allows you to easily integrate your catalog with any website or shopping cart, and it also allows you to download your catalog in different formats, such as HTML, ZPL, ACCRINT, EXCEL, and TXT, or to use the program as a standalone application to be used on any computer system. You can also easily generate a single HTML code for your catalog or for each of its separate pages, which you can then use to create a fully functional webpage, with complete functionality. The program allows you to create catalogs of any product category, and it also allows you to create subcategories, as well as a hierarchical structure of categories. You can create any number of subcategories and nested subcategories in the catalog, with your own categories and subcategories appearing on your own hierarchy. It is possible to create the entire catalog in one of two ways: you can use the built-in templates of category-based catalogs or you can create a fully-configurable catalog from scratch using the program's user interface. It is possible to create a catalog with a fixed number of categories, allowing you to restrict the number of products you can include within a single category. It is possible to associate an unlimited number of images, photos or photos of any type with your products, and it is possible to attach a special code or text description for your products. Product Catalog Builder has a number of unique features that turn it into a powerful tool for businesses of any size:
